The Lions Club of Blackall Range

The Australian Lions Children's Mobility Foundation working together with Lions International Stamp Club

Meet Eva and her new Theraplay Terrier tricycle, customised to her specific needs and enabling her to move around more freely. In addition to giving her more mobility and independence, riding the trike will help her build strength and endurance, and give her a boost in confidence. The link below gives all the details of Eva and her new trike.

<https://lionsclubs.org.au/news/evas-new-trike-pretty-pink-pedal-power/>

The Australian Lions Children's Mobility Foundation (ALCMF) is part of Lions Clubs International, the world's largest community service organisation. By facilitating the funding of specialised walking devices, ALCMF helps to get young Australians out of their wheelchairs, empowering each child to reach their full potential.

Lions International Stamp Club works with ALCMF, to collect postage stamps and sell these through Sydney stamp auctions. If you have a collection of stamps gathering dust, please consider donation through Blackall Range Lions.

We accept donations of loose postage stamps, albums, unused prepaid envelopes, first day covers, anything to do with philately. Since this project commenced 20 years ago, more than $400,000 has been handed over to the Foundation.

Donations can be left at the Mapleton Library in the box provided. Alternatively, if you have a large stamp collection or albums, please contact our experts; Gresham (0458 335343) or Greg (0421 707973) to have a chat about your collection. Please join us in helping more kids like Eva to lead happy, active and mobile lives.

Barung Landcare Native Plant Nursery

Why be a vine? On the Blackall Range we have over 100 species of vines and climbers. Clearly this growth form offers many opportunities. In this workshop we will explore the ecological role of vines, and the advantages and disadvantages of being a vine. We will learn prominent identifying features, and will examine and handle 14 local vine species. As our revegetation areas progress, vines, even native vines, can be invasive and problematic. What is the current research showing on how to handle these vigorous native climbers?

Join Hilary Pearl and Rowena Thomas at the Barung Nursery for a two-hour workshop learning key vine families and species of our forests. We recommend you bring a pen, a torch (or a phone with a torch), and your own hand lens if you have one. Magnifying lenses and hand lenses will be available to use, and worksheets will be supplied. Come and join us for some vine exploration. 🌱

Participation is limited to 15 places so please book in to attend!

Date: Saturday 17th October

Time: 9am start to 11am

Grow Australian Plants

Ozothamnus diosmifolius Rice flower

A compact small shrub that has aromatic curry-scented leaves and clusters of white flowers.

This is a great feature or pot plant, and would also make an eye-catching low hedge.

Likes a sunny spot. Feed with a good native plant food in the warmer months, being sure to water in well after fertilising to prevent leaf burn.

Ozothamnus make superb long-lasting cut flowers, and cutting them for this use will help stimulate new flowering growth as well.

Attracts bees, butterflies, other insects. Local species

Galah

Eolophus roseicapilla

The Galah can be easily identified by its rose-pink head, neck and underparts, with paler pink crown, and grey back, wings and undertail. Birds from the west of Australia have comparatively paler plumage. Galahs have a bouncing acrobatic flight, but spend much of the day sheltering from heat in the foliage of trees and shrubs. Huge noisy flocks of birds congregate and roost together at night.

Habitat

The Galah is found in large flocks in a variety of timbered habitats, usually near water.

Distribution

The Galah is one of the most abundant and familiar of the Australian parrots, occurring over most of Australia, including some offshore islands.

Feeding and diet

Galahs form huge, noisy flocks which feed on seeds, mostly from the ground. Seeds of grasses and cultivated crops are eaten, making these birds agricultural pests in some areas. Birds may travel large distances in search of favourable feeding grounds.

Communication

The voice is a distinctive high-pitched screech, 'chi-chi'.

Breeding behaviours

Galahs form permanent pair bonds, although a bird will take a new partner if the other one dies. The nest is a tree hollow or similar location, lined with leaves. Both sexes incubate the eggs and care for the young. There is high chick mortality in Galahs, with up to 50% of chicks dying in the first six months. Galahs have been recorded breeding with other members of the cockatoo family, both in the wild and captivity. These include the Sulphur-crested Cockatoo, C. galerita.

Breeding season:

February to July in the north; July to December in the south
Clutch size: 3 to 4

Economic impacts

The Galah is becoming more abundant around areas of human habitation, with the growth in population largely a result of increasing availability of food and water. Escaped aviary birds have also contributed to these numbers.

Thank you Feather Cap

TICK SEASON IS HERE – STAY TICK SAFE!

With the warmer weather here, many of us are getting back outdoors – gardening, walking, camping and enjoying our beautiful Range. Unfortunately, this also means tick season is here...

Ticks can attach to the skin and, although most bites cause only minor irritation, ticks can occasionally cause serious allergic reactions or tick paralysis.

A few simple ways to stay tick safe when you're outdoors in bushy or grassy areas:

- Wear long sleeves, long pants and enclosed shoes.
- Use an insect repellent containing DEET or picaridin.
- Light-coloured clothing can make ticks easier to spot.
- When you come home, check yourself, your children and your pets for ticks – particularly around the scalp, behind the ears, neck, armpits and groin.

Found a tick? Don't squeeze, twist or pull an attached tick, particularly with tweezers- this can increase the release of toxin. Australian health advice recommends killing the tick before removing it. Products designed to freeze adult ticks can be used, while very small ticks may require different treatment such as application of permethrin cream for a short time. Tick removers can be used with the correct technique once a tick has been killed, ensuring to check that all the parts of the tick have been removed.

Don't use kerosene, methylated spirits, alcohol or try to burn the tick off.

When should you seek medical help? Seek urgent medical attention if you develop weakness, difficulty walking, problems with balance, blurred or double vision, difficulty swallowing or speaking, or increasing symptoms after a tick bite. If you develop difficulty breathing, swelling of the tongue or throat, wheezing, dizziness or collapse, call 000 immediately. If you develop a fever, rash, headache, muscle or joint aches, or the bite becomes increasingly red, painful or infected, see your GP.

So enjoy the warmer weather and everything our Hinterland community has to offer and remember to cover up, use repellent and check for ticks when you get home.

Pop into Lindner Family Pharmacy and chat with our friendly team if you'd like advice on tick prevention or treatment. We're always happy to help!

By Natalie, your local Pharmacist at Lindner Family Pharmacy, Mapleton

AUSTRALIAN LIONS
FOUNDATION

The Lions Club of Blackall Range

Lions Clubs International is made up of 1.4 million members in 50,000 clubs worldwide who bring hands and hearts to the communities we serve. Lions help thousands of people every year. Locally, here on the Blackall Range, our modest little club of around 30 people are doing extraordinary things for our very special community.

An initiative that we are particularly proud of is our local support for the Australian Lions Children's Mobility Foundation (ALCMF – alcmf.org.au). By facilitating the funding of specialised walking devices, ALCMF helps kids out of their wheelchairs and onto their feet, empowering each child to reach his or her potential.

Ring pulls, Stamps and Metal Recycling

As part of our support for ALCMF, we recently collected and delivered to Sims Metal Recycling 35kg of ring pulls, foil from food containers and wine bottle tops, 93kg of steel in various forms and 9kg of copper wire. All proceeds are passed on directly to ALCMF to continue their work empowering all children to reach their full potential.

In addition, a few very dedicated Lions are coordinating the collection of stamps with which we support ALCMF via auctions at a Sydney stamp auction house. We collect loose postage stamps, albums, first day covers all of which are painstakingly collected, sorted and processed. And who said philately will get you nowhere!

Hinterland Dinner Reminder

Tickets are still available for the Hinterland Dinner on Thursday October 22nd. Available via the QR code, using the links below or over the counter at Montville and Mapleton IGAs and from Flaxton Barn.
